Broader experiences, broader minds

English as an Additional Language (EAL)Teacher (FTC) for the Gordonstoun International Summer School (GISS)

Job Description

Background:

The Gordonstoun International Summer School (GISS) was founded in 1976 and is now widely recognised as offering one of the world's most prestigious summer programmes. 300 boys and girls from over 40 countries currently attend GISS each year.

Role Overview:

The EAL department is a critical academic course for the Summer School with classes and activities timetabled into the evening and weekends. The age range of the students is 8-16, classes sizes are approximately 6-8 students and are streamed by ability.

This role is responsible to the Head of Studies. The EAL teacher will plan and manage high quality English lessons ensuring students are kept engaged and motivated. Teachers are encouraged to provide their own class plans and to work with the students' preferences to some extent. A range of resources is provided and the head of studies will provide support to agree in greater detail how the subject is presented. A comprehensive library of up-to-date teaching resources and equipment is available. Wi Fi is enabled throughout the campus.

Outside of the classroom activities, this role is also expected to participate in supporting and managing other activities which are part of the summer school, for example taking trips or supervising a recreational activity on site.

GISS Course dates (including mandatory staff induction) are as follows:

Wednesday 8 July to Monday 3 August 2020

Wednesday 15 July to Monday 10 August 2020

All candidates must be available to attend GISS on all these dates.
